Hello, manga enthusiasts.

I'm being forced to write the release note again, since the others don't be arsed to do it.

Well, here it is, Chapter 17 of Berryaku. Personally, I think this is one of the easier chapters to read, because many of the references are subjects that are somewhat familiar to Western audiences. We hope you enjoy it.

There was a momentous complication which is worth pointing out in the chapter. It was mentioned that "Japan didn't enter the war". We weren't real by sure which war he was talking about, but he couldn't have been talking about the Second World War in which, as anyone with a speck of historical knowledge would know...Japan did participate. I myself be love he might have been talking about the fictional war in Call of Duty 4 but it's not very clear.

On the subject of future releases, the next chapter of Hetlsing vol I be a little bit later than usual sorry about that. But, on a more welcoming note, we, HiranoMae, have decided on the next Hirano manga we will be picking up, namely "Gun Mania" which Saphire wrung out of the abyss of the internet at the cost of 50 bucks. See how awesome this guy is! You should all be lining up to buy him beer or something. Expect to see a release sooner or later

I have no idea what else to write, so, that's it from me then. Peace out, dudes.
